

Mike Codling

Mike is a senior partner with PricewaterhouseCoopers in Australia, having provided auditing, risk management, due diligence and consulting services for over 30 years, with over 20 years as a partner.

For 6 years he was a member of the PwC Board of Partners, consisting of 10 senior partners who are responsible for the governance of the Australian firm, and he chaired the firm's Board Risk Committee.

He is a life member of the Risk Management Association of Australia, having been the Vice Chair for several years. He is also a life member of the Australian Securitisation Forum, having served on their National Committee and chaired their Accounting & Risk sub-Committee for 8 years.

Mike is a director of The Freedom Project, a charitable organisation that works to end human trafficking and slavery and is Chair of the Diocesan Financial Advisory Group which advises the Anglican Church in Australia on financial and risk management matters.

He has been married for over 30 years and has three adult children. His other interests include football, church, golf, wine and horse racing.